

Charmer

Aimee Mann

When you're a charmer
the apples fall and you're quite the little collector you got 'em all

people respond they can't see the hidden agenda you got going on

But when you're weak it's the Holy Grail you're two for one, it's a fire sale and that's a wall that you cannot scale so you're forced to burrow under

the world applauds they don't know that secretly charmers feel like they're frauds

you hate yourself a victim of sideshow hypnosis like everyone else and then your thinking goes black and white and you're all hunger and appetite this is a battle you cannot fight no, you only can surrender
