Too Sentimental

One world, one love, these can never be apart Whisper in your words what is in your heart How can I stop this emotion knowing that it's true Am I too sentimental for you Have I gone too far If I knew this feeling is part of you too, girl

Midnight, candlelight Knowing you are close to me So much I have inside I've got to set it free

With you silence can be spoken If love has broken through Am I too sentimental for you Have I gone too far If I knew that this feeling is part of you too, girl

Ooh, sentimental man Am I saying too much too soon Cause I love you Such a gentle girl Waiting for you

One love, two touch, we can never be apart I want you so much for what is in your heart How can we stop this emotion knowing that it's true Am I too sentimental for you Have I gone too far If I knew that this feeling is part of you too, girl
