Don't be light
Don't be light
Maybe like me
Don't be light
Wild life
The grey surprises of our days
Singing in caves
Fabricating a new abandon
We don't see the master' hand
We bang on gold tamourines
In the cross hairs of some transient gun
Trading desires on the banquet line
La la la