

People race through their lives walking through blind in out of time
I don't wanna be the same
cut through my veins.
bleeds through my-
I see clearly
what I thought right from the start.
No, you know, we know
that there's something else

No, we can't shake this, there's something else
No, I wont move on, there's something else

People love to criticize and pull out their knives and put the cold blade in.
I don't wanna be the same
cut through my veins
it bleeds through my-
I see clearly
what I thought right from the start.
No, you know, we know

No, we can't shake this, there's something else
No, I wont move on, there's something else

No, we can't shake this, there's something else
No, I wont move on, there's something else

No, I can't move on, there's something else
