

Relief just for the night
We are resist our will to fight
Break forth and cry aloud
By flocks and hoards we need you now Strike them with terror
Let the nations know they're only men
We'll reap what we sow
So let the harvest begin

For all that you've lost
We'll regain
We'll relay the message
With fear and oppression
Why do you hide yourself
The wicked hunts down the weak
Who are caught in the traps of devices
But we're still on our feet

So who are you that we all have escaped in
We are the last ones breathing
For all of those who are lost
We'll regain
We'll relay the message
The message

I live for faith and I've lost my way
I've found myself in the shadow
Searching for God's grace
When the foundations are being destroyed
What can the righteous do
Tell me

So who are you that we all have escaped in
We are the last ones breathing
For all of those who are lost
We'll regain
We'll relay the message
The message

Give light to my eyes or I will sleep in my death
The faithful have all vanished
Let's get them back again
Desperate love, you wanted it all
Desperate love, you wanted it all
Desperate love, you wanted it all

Take back your life
Oh no it's not too late
We're all standing in the shallows
Waiting to be saved
You can't undo everything
But you can start
You can start again
