

I found a way out, but I'll be heading through your mercy
These days are relentless in devouring the less compelled.
An inconsistency in what we proclaim makes us thirsty,
I know it won't be long before both paths run parallel.

If you believe, get ready for persecution.
Don't crumble under their questions now.
If you believe, just stand your ground.

I promise you life eternal
It's something that you can't live without
Forever will there be us a way out, us a way out
(2x)

I plead, make yourself worthy
Yeah!

We've built a firm foundation,
But we're running out of time.
The crimes you hold against us,
We'll admit to every one.

The irony is that we're dying either way,
But I'd rather die for my beliefs than die for anything.

Now all the eyes that see truth
Words are not enough, let your actions speak

I found a way out, but I'll be heading through your mercy
These days are relentless in devouring the less compelled
An inconsistency in what we proclaim makes us thirsty
I know it won't be long before both paths run parallel.
