

Stand Up

Al Green

Stand up, and identify yourself
Stand up, and identify yourself

What's your name, what's the nature of the game, who you are How far you come, where have you been

Stand up, you've been promised just one day
And that's today
Stand up, no sense in sleeping your life away

Where you going, what's your plan
If you a loser or a winning man
Tell me now, I wanna know
You've got to let the glory show

Stand up, tomorrow's about to come
Are you ready
Stand up, today's got you on the run

Don't fall down on your face and let someone take your place
Cause you oughta know, you can do it
Tell me that there's nothing to it

Where you going, do you know
Did you're friends tell you so
Can you make it by yourself
With the strength that you have left

Why don't you give me a hand
I'll try my best to understand
I don't know about goodbye
But nothing fails but a try
