

American Farmer

Alabama

American farmer, we're all depending on you
American farmer, feeding the red, white and blue
American farmer

Next generation, keeping our nation alive
Down on their knees, praying for rain from the sky
They're out there every morning
Planting those seeds in the ground
Riding those big wheels until the sun goes down

American farmer, we're all depending on you
No one works harder, feeding the red, white and blue
If there's no farm, there ain't no food
Thank God you do what you do
American farmer

So give thanks when we fill our cart
At our local store
And not take for granted
Tomorrow there'll always be more
Just take a trip down our back road
And you'll understand
You'll feel the beat from the heart of this great land

American farmer, we're all depending on you
American farmer, feeding the red, white and blue
If there's no farm, there ain't no food
Thank God you do what you do
American farmer, feeding the red, white and blue

With their faith and forage too
If there's no farm, there ain't no food
Thank God you do what you do
American farmer, American farmer
With their faith and forage too
American farmer
American farmer [whoa,
American farmer [whoa,
American farmer, American farmer
American farmer, [Whoa,
[Whoa,
American farmer [whoa,
American farmer
