She and I live in our own little world don't worry about the world outside

She and I agree
She and I lead a perfectly normal life
Ah but just because we aren't often seen socially people think we've got something to hide.
But all our friends know we're just a little old fashioned
She and I

Oh ain't that great aint it fine to have a love someone that others can't find Aint it wonderful to know all we ever need is just the two of u s
She and I

so wonderful She and I

She and I share with every body else the same wants, needs and desires She and I save She and I pay on everything we acquire

Ah but just because we aren't often seen separately people think we live one life.

Its hard for them to see how anyone could be as close as $\ensuremath{\mathsf{She}}$ and $\ensuremath{\mathsf{I}}$
