

Goodbye Lost Innocence

Alana Grace

I used to think
When I grew up
I would be someone

I'd have it all
Figured out
With no shades of grey

Could someone please just
Tell me what went wrong
This pocket full of hope
Is almost gone
Been throwing it away
Since I was young
Can't hold on

Nothing is permanent
Nothing is permanent
Goodbye to lost innocence
It's hard to let you go

So hard to let you go

When you find
Clarity
It slides out of focus

I wanna see
The world again
But with eyes wide open

Could someone please just
Tell me what went wrong
This pocket full of hope
Is almost gone
Been throwing it away
Since I was young
Can't hold on

Nothing is permanent
Nothing is permanent
Goodbye to lost innocence
It's hard to let you go

So hard to let you go

Nothing is permanent
Nothing is permanent
Goodbye to lost innocence
It's hard to let you go

Nothing is permanent
Nothing is permanent
Goodbye to lost innocence
It's hard to let you go
