

Sanctuary

Alana Grace

Standing through an open door way, sick of feeling out of place
People walking by ignore me, I want to turn and run away
So I turn and run away
I close my eyes, and I disappear from here to

My sanctuary, my hide away, my secret window
Nobody can see me when I disappear into my place
My complications, my fantasies, my destination
Never going to let you get into my head it's my
Sanctuary

You think that you can understand me,
You think you got me figured out
How could you when you never listen?
You don't know what I'm about
Don't you know I tune you out?
I'm far away, to a place where you can't go
You know it's

My sanctuary, my hide away, my secret window
Nobody can see me when I disappear into my place
My complications, my fantasies, my destination
Never going to let you get into my head it's my
Sanctuary

I, I, ohhh, I, I, ohhh

Go ahead and try to fool me with your lies,
I escape into shadows of my mind to

My sanctuary, my hide away, my secret window
Nobody can see me when I disappear into my place
My complications, my fantasies, my destination
Never going to let you get into my head it's my

My sanctuary, my hide away, my secret window
Nobody can see me when I disappear into my place