

The Tunnel

Alana Grace

I will leave through the open door
I was sure you were so much more
Now I'm hoping to forget...
How long till then?
Everyday now the sky is gray
There's gotta be a hole in this day
I wanna find what I believe in Where do I begin?

If visions won't leave you, you have to leave them

Oh, I wanna know, I wanna go
Where the air will clear my soul
To see the light
I will find a way through the tunnel
Without the sun, when I'm undone
When you know you're the last someone
You want the truth
So you will find your way through the tunnel

I have stayed here asleep too long
Just to hide what felt wrong
Told the story just enough
To keep you out of touch
Everyday now I wonder why
I can't control the chaos inside
There's gotta be a place to go
Away to be alone

If memories won't leave you, you have to leave them

Oh, I wanna know, I wanna go
Where the air will clear my soul
To see the light
I will find a way through the tunnel
Without the sun, when I'm undone
When you know you're the last someone
You want the truth
So you will find your way through the tunnel

Oh oh oh, oh oh oh, oh oh oh

I wanna know, I wanna go
Where the air will clear my soul
To see the light
I will find a way through the tunnel
Without the sun, when I'm undone
When you know you're the last someone
You want the truth
So you will find your way through the tunnel

Oh oh oh, oh oh oh

to see the light
I will find a way through the tunnel

Oh oh oh, oh oh oh

to see the light
You will find a way through the tunnel
