The Thespian

Alesana

Baby! Why are you doing this to me? Sweetheart! Are those your eyes staring straight back at me? Angel! I see your smile everywhere! Darling! Stop!

Night falls and I'm running in circles (Wohoo Wohoo) I'm being chased by my imagination (Wohoo Wohoo)

Tell me I'm forgiven say you'll always be mine Say that everything is over, tell me I'm fine No one deserves to live like this!

Tell me I'm forgiven say you'll always be mine Say that everything is over, tell me I'm fine No one deserves to live like this!

I touch your lips and stare in your eyes You smile and it makes me fly You are the reason my heart beats Tonight it's just you and me

Night as dark as my thoughts sets the scene for my return Lightning nips at my heels as I race home Wearily I stagger towards the song of her pale voice Demons jeer my attempt to be free

Tell me I'm forgiven say you'll always be mine Say that everything is over, tell me I'm fine No one deserves to live like this!

Tell me I'm forgiven say you'll always be mine Say that everything is over, tell me I'm fine No one deserves to live like this!

I touch your lips and stare in your eyes You smile and it makes me fly You are the reason my heart beats Tonight it's just you and me

Windows cast her gentle reflection Her somber silhouette dances for me

Look at you, you miserable fool Get off your knees, your prayers fall upon deaf ears God's turned his back on you, Heaven's gates are shut And now you're knocking on the devil's door

I've been expecting you for some time, sir Allow me to introduce myself I'm the one who pulls on all the strings, son You're lucky I don't kill you where you stand

This can't be real
Tonight I raise my glass
There's nothing left
For I know it's time to move on

All hope has failed
My patience will not last
I've lost my soul
Tomorrow I will be gone
