

4 A.M.

Alex G

It's pouring rain at 4 a.m.
I feel so close to you right now
But have you fallen for me yet?
I'd let you go but I don't know how

And I know it's just another night
But I fell for you again
And I remember when

You didn't wanna waste a moment
You were captured in my arms
And stolen by my eyes
It's still your heart that lifts me
And your words that can kill me
But still I'd run for miles
Just to be near you

Oh ohhh...

Your presence lingers on my neck
I can't let go of you right now
I'm kinda scared of what comes next
I might just die if you forget

And I know it's just another night
but I fell for you again
And I remember when

You didn't wanna waste a moment
You were captured in my arms
And stolen by my eyes
It's still your heart that lifts me
And your words that can kill me
But still I'd run for miles

You cut me open
And you fill me with this hope
When you know this whole thing's hopeless
And I'm hopelessly hoping
That you will see
What lies inside of me

It's pouring rain at 4 a.m.
I feel so close to you right now

And I don't wanna waste this moment
Captured in your arms
And stolen by your eyes eyes
It's still your heart that lifts me
And your words that can kill me
But still I'd run for miles

So close so close now
Don't let go let go now
Won't you fall for me tonight?

It's still your heart that lifts me

And your words that can kill me
But still I'd run for miles
Just to be near you
