Hello The End

This is the end, my friend The end, my friend, the end I hope to see you again, my friend Again, my friend, again And I didn't want to hold you back And I didn't want to see you off now Down the wrong track Elusive personality I think you know as much as me No secrets that you're hiding Count 4 and we'll begin again We'll begin again This time, release, my friend Release, my friend, the end And I didn't want to hold you back And I didn't want to see you off now Down the wrong track This time, it makes so sense at all I'm standing still while others fall Keeps shrinking every second Hello The end, the end The end
