

Day Dream

Alexandra Burke

I really didn't wanna talk about this
I think it's time

Millions of people have me wondering
And I'm feeling I'm the last to know
Our private network we built became a bestselling show
What was your thinking at the time
When you decided to sleep with her
It didn't stop there, this I know
The papers fucking told me so

I know it ain't right for me to be daydreaming about loving you
I can tell my heart how to be easy dreaming
'Cause I'm daydreaming, daydreaming
I can't stop thinking about you
I close my eyes to be around you, things about you
Make me hate you when I'm daydreaming

I had moments and I cried and I'm not ashamed to say so
Drink every day, lost my best friend
But I replaced you in Merlot
You have the nerve to question me
Accusing me of denying us
That's why I benched you, oh, deja-vu
See, I'll better find a fucking substitute

I know it ain't right for me to be daydreaming about loving you
I can tell my heart how to be easy dreaming
'Cause I'm daydreaming, daydreaming
I can't stop thinking about you
I close my eyes to be around you, things about you
Make me hate you when I'm daydreaming

I know it ain't right for me
I can tell my heart how to be

I know it ain't right for me to be daydreaming about loving you
I can tell my heart how to be easy dreaming
'Cause I'm daydreaming, daydreaming
I can't stop thinking about you
I close my eyes to be around you, things about you
Make me hate you when I'm daydreaming

When I'm daydreaming
When I'm daydreaming
When I'm daydreaming
When I'm daydreaming

I want you, hate you
I want you, hate you
I want you, hate you
I want you, hate you
I want you, hate you
I want you, hate you
I want you, hate you
I want you, hate you
