I wonder why We are the way we are Yes I wonder why We are the way we are And why We only love each from afar This is how we are fading This is how we are fading Time Time You spend your days Watching the door Yeah you spend your whole life waiting But you don't know what for You have everything you need right here Still you want more Oh this is how we are fading This is how we are fading Time Time Well I didn't come here Looking for a soul And I'm tired of watching dust Collecting on a bowl I'm a spirit trying to be human I'm just a spirit trying to be human But I'm thinking this is how we are fading This is how we are fading Time Time You hold on to yourself You're afraid that you might Get left behind And so you hide your eyes You're afraid that the light Will make you blind But it's time It's time to shine Yes it's time to believe in what you know Time to believe in what you know Time to believe in what you know And you don't need strength to be strong Time to believe in what you know No you don't need strength to be strong Time to believe in what you know Time to believe in what you know Time to believe in what you know time to believe in what you know

Time to believe before you go
