

Didn't We Meet

Alice Cooper

Pardon me,
But you see,
I've seen that face before
I know those eyes
Unearthly wise
I feel it more and more
To look at you,
Deja vu,
Chills me to the core

They say that you are the king
Of this whole damn thing
But that only confused me
Said I don't stand a ghost
Of a chance with my host
And that frankly amused me
So let's drink a few
Here's lookin' at you, I swear
Didn't we meet in the night in my sleep somewhere?
Didn't we meet in the night in my sleep somewhere?

Gradually
I can see
Things are getting clear
That ageless face
Satanic grace
This sudden rush of fear

They say that you are the king
Of this whole damn thing
Now they got me believin'
Said I don't stand a ghost
Of a chance with my host
So I'd better be leavin'
So let's drink a few
Here's lookin' at you, I swear
Didn't we meet in the night in my sleep somewhere?

Here I am
Door's been slammed
They're gonna roast my hide
Make me bleed
'Til I plead
For you to let me die

They say that you are the king
Of this whole damn thing
Now they got me believin'
Said I don't stand a ghost
Of a chance with my host
God, I wish I'd believed them
So let's drink a few
Here's lookin' at you, I swear
Didn't we meet in the night in my sleep somewhere?
Didn't we meet
In the night in my sleep?
Didn't we meet

In the night in my sleep
Somewhere?
