

Fool For You

Alice Smith

That real, that feel,
That burning, and amazing, unconditional side of love
That feel like forever, that always emotional
And still excess of love.
Ain't nobody tell me nothing,
Said it is what it is.
Any mistake you make I just might forgive.
Right now, right now, in this very moment
I still love him like I love me.
I love him minute, hour, up and down, round and round and over and over again.
So rarely, I swear that you just don't exist.
There's only one person I could find in the world make me feel like this.

I'm a fool, such a fool for you.

That deep, that sweet, that soft and that bad,
That bio that's over stall.
That up and that down, that front, that back, baby,
I can't seem to get enough.
Uh, baby, let me do it, let me do it till I'm satisfied.
Oh baby, now, right now, baby, I ain't got no more pride.
Sweet sugar, I surrender, I don't want no other man.
Baby, you win and you ain't never got to worry
Never got to worry, you'll never be alone again.
There's nothing, there's nothing that I wouldn't do.
Girl, that's somebody there, everybody know who I'm talking to.

I'm a fool, such a fool for you.

I'm a fool, such a fool for you.
