Wish I Were You

Alisha's Attic

I wish i were you I wish i could wear your shoes Wish i could think from your brain I wish i were you Yes i do I wish i were you

In seventies attire You know the whole planet And the whole planet knows you back You flaunt your imperfections You carry it off with a wave of confidence The hair flicks The aura spits Out something sparkly All this reflects a Deliriously happy individual Makes me sick to my stomach

Well i''m jealous So quote me on that I''ve got a temper You''re laid back Do you feel safe with a woman who Doesn''t even know her politics From her poloneck?

And you go with the flow It fits you perfectly As you make love on another Lip-shaped settee You''re as cool as can be

Strange soul you are I stand in wonder You make your own rules And use your own devices You lay back Easy to do And i wish i were you
