It's everything that I can do right now

To not think about you moving further off with every passing se cond

And every night of this lonely summertime

I feel you missing from my heart, a part was kidnapped from my soul

Well I can hardly wait until I get the sun and your lips both p ressing on my skin

Well I can hardly wait until I feel that thrill in my heart that starts inside your eyes

And a song in my head that burns so good on my tongue

Yes I will, yeah, yeah

Yes I will

The night is aging as the sun warms your face

Won't you turn around and stay for good, the air is getting muc h too cold

I am nervous and anxious, it really counts this time

And you know all my favorite singers have stolen all of my best lines

Well I can hardly wait until I get the sun and your lips both p ressing on my skin

Well I can hardly wait until I feel that thrill in my heart that starts inside your eyes

And a song in my head that burns so good on my tongue

Yes I will, yeah, yeah

Yes I will, yeah, yeah

Yes I will

Someday I'll burn this bed

Only two feet wide, but where I'll hide for the next 17 days I will ask myself, "How badly do I want this?"

I really want this

Well I can hardly wait until I get the sun and your lips both p ressing on my skin

Well I can hardly wait until I feel that thrill in my heart that starts inside your eyes

And a song in my head that burns so good on my tongue

Yes I will, yeah, yeah

Yes I will, yeah, yeah

Yes I will.
