

I Lied My Face Off

Alkaline Trio

Well, it's not fair, it's not even close.
You tied me down,
Where I'm forced to watch as you poke holes
In every part of me
Containing something secretly.
Something sacred to me.

I lied my face off when I said
That I would be okay.
It's never fine when you go away.
These cuts run deep,
These scars are permanent and always on display.
This makes things difficult for me.

It's not fair, it's not even close.
You fed me the sun.
Burned me up inside and watched me choke
On everything we did,
On everything we lived.
Let's see if I can live again.

I lied my face off when I said
That I would be okay.
It's never fine when you go away.
These cuts run deep,
These scars are permanent and always on display.
This makes things difficult for me.

Head like an empty, sterile room.
Somehow I made a mess.
Like watching newborn babies crack
From work related stress.
Head like an empty sterile room.
Somehow I made a mess.
Like watching newborn babies crack
From work related stress.
I'm bad luck, can't fuck.
Got no reflection today.
Maybe I'll stay down next time I get hit by a train.
By a train.

I lied my face off when I said
That I would be okay.
It's never fine when you go away.
