Stupid Kid

Alkaline Trio

There are things that used to make me smile One of them was you for just a little while You left me for dead so far away I replaced you with fear and shame You'll be happy on the day I die

There are things that used to make me laugh But now they're deeply buried in the past I left them there so far away Replaced my humor with my pain I'll be happy on the day it dies

Remember when I said I love you Well, forget it I take it back I was just a stupid kid back then I take back every word that I said

There are things that used to make you cry
One of them was me for just a little while
Why is it that you had to say
Goodbye in your special way
You slashed the tires on my car

Remember when I said I love you Well, forget it I take it back I was just a stupid kid back then I take back every word that I said

Remember when I said I love you Well, forget it I take it back I was just a stupid kid back then I take back every word that I said.
