

Another You

Alkemyst

You and I used to be like brothers
Two fools sharing the same anger
No need to talk to understand each other
But friendship couldn't restrain any longer

Wishing i were someone special
Try again to make me grow up

You were my Abel, I was your Cain
Looking for my own identity

Who else could you be... but another me?
Wishing I were you!

Let me see
Please help me
Wanna pull myself up!
You made me feel that things were worth fighting for
I was yearning for the passion and experience

Yeah, you gave me all, all that you had
But I could never pay you back
As I trusted, I betrayed you:
It was the best that I could do

When you held your hand out to me
To make me feel stronger
I would only turn into a stranger
Let me be ... Another you

Let me see...

Ooh, we used to be like brothers
Two fools sharing the same anger
No need to talk to understand each other
Friendship couldn't restrain...No!

Let me see...
