Come One, Come All

All Time Low

Come one, come all You're just in time To witness my first breakdown Cause there's a mile gone For every minute passed When I'm stuck in this town

I've got a bone to pick with you, Mr. DJ The traffic and the sound Is just as bad as it is in LA

So go on and lock me up You better throw away that key Before I find out where you broadcast from Because your play list is killing me

I'll change that station Light it up like the 4th of July It's me, I'm caller fifteen Time to play my last request

Come one, come all You're just in time To witness my first breakdown Cause there's a mile gone For every minute passed When I'm wasting space in this town Don't call the doctors I don't need no medication I just need one more vacation And make it last

Hear me out, please, judge and jury I'm an innocent man And it would be such a terrible injustice To put me away without thinking about All the terrible mistakes That goddamn radio jockey makes I swear he's out to get me Oh, I swear he's out to get me

I'll change that station Light it up like the 4th of July It's me, I'm caller fifteen But it's too late for explanations This broadcast will be your last

Come one, come all You're just in time To witness my first breakdown Cause there's a mile gone For every minute passed When I'm wasting space in this town Don't call the doctors I don't need no medication I just need one more vacation And make it last Hear me out, please, judge and jury And I swear he's out to get me Oh, I swear he's out to get me Go on and lock me up You better throw away that key I swear he's out to get me I swear he's out to get me

I've got a bone to pick with you, Mr. DJ You really ought to lock me up Because your play list is killing me

Come one, come all You're just in time To witness my first breakdown Cause there's a mile gone For every minute passed When I'm wasting space in this town Don't call the doctors I don't need no medication I just need one more vacation And make it last