

Tidal Waves

All Time Low

Falling on my face again,
So I know I'm right on track,
It's hard for me to make amends,
When you stab me in the back,

Sailing on to another sorry shore,
Talking shit, say I'm your filthy little,
Filthy little...

Like I just happened to be in the right place,
Right time,
Just settle down,

I earned my place,
With the tidal waves,
I can't escape this feeling,
That something ain't right,
I carved my name,
As I crashed the gates,
Still, I can't escape this feeling,
That something ain't right,

Why don't you think before you speak,
'Cause you don't know me at all,

Tell me how you really feel,
Write it on the bathroom wall,
If anyone was watching,
I know you'd say nothing at all,

Treading water, yea, you're angry and you're bored,
But I'm sick of this, I'm just your filthy little, filthy little...

Like I just happened to be, at the right place, right time,
Oh would you settle down?

I earned my place,
With the tidal waves,
I can't escape this feeling,
That something ain't right,
I Carved my name,
As crashed the gates,
Still I can't escape this feeling,
That something ain't right,

Why don't you think before you speak,
'Cause you don't know me at all,

Spread your lies like fireflies,
In a white hot summer,
Trying to pull me under,
You sharpen words to use like knives,
When you lose your cover,

I earned my place,
With the tidal waves,

I can't escape this feeling,
That something ain't right,
I Carved my name,
As crashed the gates,
Still I can't escape this feeling,
That something ain't right,

Why don't you think before you speak,
'Cause you don't know me at all
