

Send Packing

All-Time Quarterback

With every movement, everything's said
I drink til im sober and start again
If you had the answers, cause I wasn't sharp
Then why was it ending or why did it start?

I do declare you were all that I wanted
But I was so stubborn, the risks were undaunted
If you had the answers and I wasn't told,
Then that makes you selfish heartless and cold

If I'm sent packing, then I'm giving up
Rights to the children and the keys to the truck
If you had the answers, then why was it hard
To lock the door and keep up your guard?

I've nothing to say, that we haven't gone over already.
