You came clearer than ever before You did what no one else can Just never follow up when I'm awake Because I'd hurt you. You'd hurt me too.

You are a dream. This is the longest time I've been with someon e

There's no explaining, no escaping
You are for real and nothing will ever come between us
There's no need to look to deep
I'll just never go to sleep

I felt your body as I remember
Put me to shame when I was through
I put you down inside myself
But you manage to do it. You always do

Did you know you missed the point of dreaming When you said you needed more and more You ended up with less

This time I have you with me
I pulled you out when I got up
I beat your pretty face
I will make this one real

Everything wet; pillow with tears Sheets with sweat. I'm tired Do it when I'm here
