

Lost In Your Words

Allele

I get lost in your telephone
I get lost in your radio, I do
I'm lost in the way you call me home
Call me home
I get lost in your song-like words
And I know you're the only one I'd choose
Of all the colors on the wall
They show us all
Who we are.

I get lost in your words
Can you find a place where I'm whole again?
Now I'm lost in your words
Can you find a place where I'm whole again?
And not pretend.

I get lost on your pedestal
There's so much in this world I want to do
With you cause you have it all
And I know, it's not for sure

I get lost in your words
Can you find a place where I'm whole again?
Now I'm lost in your words, can you find a place where I'm whole again?

Whole again!

I get lost in your patch!
Can you find a place where I'm whole again?

I get lost in your words
Can you find a place where I'm whole again?
Now I'm lost in your words
Can you find a place where I'm whole again?
I know you feel the way I do
