

Where Have The Angels Gone

Allen-Lande

I remember all your promises
I remember all your words
You told me life could change for the better
I shouldn't believe in what I heard
In a blink of an eye everything happens
Be patient now...

Where have the angels gone
Where are all the miracles they've done
Can you answer me now
I wanna know

Counting the hours I've been waiting
Counting the lies that I've been told
Am I the only one who's searching
Searching for a miracle of gold...

In a blink of an eye....
