

A Thousand Miles Away

Allister

Tied up all the loose ends here, and the West Coast calls me to come find a new life Got stuck in this suburban town and it's finally time to, just leave it behind turn up the music and drive!

A thousand miles away from here where ocean air, and opportunities awaits If life is what you you make of it then just head out, and leave the rest of it to fate

Been trapped in the same routine
When a new world's waiting outside of these walls Overthink and you'll never leave and what's the worst that happens, if things didn't work out could turn back or keep moving on!
