

Something Better

Allister

Well I'm sitting here just writing words in the pages of my mind Nothing's gonna change I'm sure and I know that I'm just wasting my time
But I'm stuck inside this daze, I wish there was a way That you could help me out but you just don't understand
The way I feel about today Cause I know there's something better, I know there's something new
And I know there's something out there for me too I've been sitting here just killing time drinking off another night
Trying to make up for the years gone by that never seem to turn out right Cause I'm stuck inside this daze, I wish there was a way
understand
The way I feel about today
Cause I know there's something better, I know there's something new
And I know there's something out there for me too Yeah I know there's something better, I know there's something new
And I know there's something out there for me too Cause I'm stuck inside this daze, I wish there was a
understand
The way I feel about today
Cause I know there's something better, I know there's something new
And I know there's something out there for me too Yeah I know there's something better, I know there's something new
And I know there's something out there for me too
