Eyes of a Child

You think you're so sophisticated With your lady-like ways Your life is so complicated Do you remember the days?

Looking through

You're looking through the eyes of a child You see what you believe Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe

I remember the things you hated All the two-faced lies The people that smiled and cheated Looking back on your life

You're looking through

You're looking through the eyes of a child You see what you believe Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe

Act like a lady Subscribe to all the magazines Cry like a baby At all that you have seen

Through the eyes of a child

You think you're so sophisticated With your lady-like ways Your life is so complicated Do you remember the days?

Looking through

You're looking through the eyes of a child You see what you believe Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe

Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe Through the eyes of a child You see what you believe

Through the eyes of a child Through the eyes of a child Through the eyes of a child
