Flame

I've been searching for so long Now I'm chasing the shadows away I've been trying Yes I tried to find my way No more crying in the make or break decade There were times when I was down There were times I felt so low My whole life just seemed to be A senseless quest for energy

But I carry your flame All through my life I'm a believer Peace deep in our hearts All things must pass But we'll be together...again

I've been walking I've been walking in the rain When the angle of my intuition Whispered hello Well,I was quite surprised To face that kind of incarnation Love comes always unexpected Love strikes blind and undirected Love is the answer Love is all we need,my friend Now you came and changed the weather Now I wanna live forever

I carry your flame All through my life I'm a believer Peace deep in our hearts All things must pass But we'll be together...again Alphaville
