You carved the runes into my bones and signed them up for me I still don't know what's on your list and what's prepared for me

You killed the fairies in my dreams, you poured their blood on me

If i only knew your plans, i'd drink it happily
I hate to be in love with you but put the blame on me
You're innocent just like a gun, you love me dangerously
Your body seems to be unreal, your touch is like the sea
And when i gaze upon your smile the devil grins at me
But if i lost your gleaming look i'd lose the light in me
As long as i can feel the pain i burn fantastically
I hate to be in love with you but put the blame on me
You're innocent just like a gun, you love me dangerously
You brought the stars right down to me, you smashed them on the ground

You ripped the moon out of its place and turned it upside down Maybe you thought i'd take it cool but i feel like i'm cursed Armed with the rapture of a fool i ruin my universe I hate to be in love with you but put the blame on me You're innocent just like a gun, you love me dangerously ..you carved the runes into my bones and signed them up for me I still don't know what's on your list and what's prepared for me...

- ...for me
- ...for me
- ...for me
