

Final Warning

Altaria

I take a look into your tear-filled lying eyes
I see a glimps of goodness, but the anger holds my mind
I know that you and I, we could have worked things out
But it's to late by now, we're at the point of no return

This pilot will crash and burning

To the final warning
In the jaws of danger
We're on a misty morning
When I show no mercy when I call of the warning

You...
Of the one you use to want
And I can turn around to take you back into my arms
I hear your...
And I'm almost there again
But it's too late by now
Cause it seems you'll never learn

This pilot will crash and burning

To the final warning
In the jaws of danger
We're on a misty morning
When I show the mercy when I call off the warning
It's the final dawning
When the gates are open
And the tears are falling
Yet is show no mercy when I call off the warning of love
Warning of love

Final warning
In the jaws of danger
We're on a misty morning
When I show no mercy when I call off the warning
It's the final dawning
When the gates are open
And the tears are falling
Yet is show no mercy when I call off the warning of love
In the jaws of danger
We're on a misty morning
When I show no mercy when I call off the warning
It's the final dawning
When the gates are open...
