

Fire and Ice

Altaria

Like a whirlwind of neon through empty streets
The crusader forever races
A message he brings to the chosen one
On the wings of a fire-spitting dragon

Remember his name you'll hear it again
As the clouds of the tempest gather
From the skies he'll return with the speed of light
And the sword of vengeance higher

See the calm before the storm

Fire and ice
Sleeping visions come to life again
Fire and ice
Out of the night

Nation by nation he'll conquer the world
A warrior shows no mercy
From the arctic cold to the tropical night
Far and wide goes the glorious journey