

Willow Tree

Ellis, Alton

They say that once the tear has fallen, the willow cries eternally cry not for me, my willow tree don't shed your tears eternally cause I have found the love I've searched for I need your tears no more, no more

So tell where, my weeping willow and if we'll ever meet again
cry not for me, my willow tree
cause I have found the love I've searched for
I need your tears no more, no more They say the willow cries for someone and that's when someone's heart is broken cry not for me, my willow tree
I need your tears no more, no more
