

53rd Floor

Aly & AJ

Breakfast is on the table
We couldn't care less
I'm staring out your window
I'm laying in your bed

You're getting in the shower
I'm kinda looking in
And these are the little things
On how my day begins

We don't need to talk about it
We don't need to shout
Tell the rest of the world we're busy
Up here by ourselves

Da, da, da, da, da, da, da
Da, da, da, da, da, da
Da, da, da, da, da, da, da
Da, da, da, da, da, da

Maybe I'll wear your coat
Tomorrow when we go out
Yeah, I like your cologne
I think I wear too much
Why don't we stay here?
Why don't we stay on the 53rd floor?

We don't need to talk about it
We don't need to shout
Tell the rest of the world we're busy
Up here by ourselves

Da, da, da, da, da, da, da
Da, da, da, da, da, da
Da, da, da, da, da, da, da
Da, da, da, da, da, da

Tell the world, tell the world to take it easy
Tell the world down below moving slow that we're dizzy
Tell the world, tell the world to take it easy
Tell the world down below moving slow that we're dizzy

We don't need to talk about it
We don't need to shout
Tell the rest of the world we're busy
Up here by ourselves

Tell the rest of the world we're busy
Up here by ourselves