

Crawl

Aly & AJ

We come and then we go
Our love's a revolving door
We're never quite sure
I leave but you always stay
I'll be back in maybe thirty days
But then I've changed

It's not easy telling lies
I am restless, sick inside

So I crawl back to you
Waiting here at your door, at your door
Don't say no
So I crawl back to you
With my head hanging low, hanging low
You'll never know

I cover up all the things I've done
Like what I did or what I've become
The list is too long
My shame weighs more than yours
It creeps up but it never shows
That I am not yours

It's not easy telling lies
I am restless, sick inside

So I crawl back to you
Waiting here at your door, at your door
Don't say no
So I crawl back to you
With my head hanging low, hanging low
You'll never know

Someday, someday
Maybe, maybe
It'll be okay

So I crawl back to you
Waiting here at your door, at your door
Don't say no
So I crawl back to you
With my head hanging low, hanging low
You'll never know
So I crawl back to you
Waiting here at your door, at your door
Don't say no
So I crawl back to you
You'll never know
