

Beautiful

Alyssa Reid

Sticks and stones
They never break your bones
They just shake you up
And make you feel all alone
Don't believe the lies
And if they see you crying next to me
Whether where you are and whether why
Bigger than I

Out of the blue
When you thought that you knew
Who you were
I said

You're beautiful right where you are
You're perfect with all of your scars
Maybe to them you may not be anyone
Or anything but darling you're everything to me

Life, it isn't fair
Not like a fairytale
We often try and fail
Don't let it bring you down
You've been left alone
But stronger winds are blown
No you're not on your own
No I'm still around
I'm by your side

And out of the blue
When you thought that you knew
Who you were
I said

You're beautiful right where you are
You're perfect with all of your scars
Maybe to them you may not be anyone
Or anything but darling you're everything to me

You're beautiful right where you are
You're perfect with all of your scars
Maybe to them you may not be anyone
Or anything but darling you're everything to me

Now in the silence
It all seems so clear
I said

You're beautiful right where you are
You light up my world like the sun and the stars
I wouldn't change you for anyone or anything
'Cause darling you're everything to me

You're beautiful right where you are
You're perfect with all of your scars
Maybe to them you may not be anyone
Or anything but darling you're everything to me
