

Change Your Mind

Alyssa Reid

Don't need to say a word, I know it's time for me to go
What have I done? Now tell me do you even know?
Something's broken, something's different, something in your eyes
They're so lifeless, you don't even want to try

Tic-toc, running out of time
But it's how we got
I'm holding on but you've given up and I can't breathe

If I could change your mind yeah
I would stay tonight yeah

No matter where I go you always seem to hold me back
The words around me talking so my colors fade to black

Tic-toc, running out of time
But it's how we got
I'm holding on but you've given up and I can't breathe

If I could change your mind yeah
I would stay tonight yeah

If you're giving up, if you're giving up
If you're giving up, I'm giving up
If you're giving up, if you're giving up
Yea, yea

If I could change your mind yeah
I would stay tonight yeah

If you're giving up, if you're giving up
If you're giving up, I'm giving up

If you're giving up, if you're giving up
If you're giving up, I'm giving up

If you're giving up, if you're giving up
If you're giving up, I'm giving up

If you're giving up, if you're giving up
If you're giving up, I'm giving up
