

Inner Whore

Amanda Somerville

Let it out...
Let me be your...
No, no, no, I don't want this
Come, play me a song
Take me away, take me along
I feel so lost
Tempted to run, driven astray
Never to return again

With eyes just like the night, pierce me with your darkness
You drive out all the light with your subtle darkness

You make me feel the need
To let out my inner whore
You make me feel the greed
The fire I can't ignore

I try all that I can
All that I want
To get you to come to me and say
"To hell with it all."
You'd throw it away and never look back again
You close around me tight; let me feel your darkness
I won't put up a fight, we can be the darkness

The break...
It isn't mine to take?
But is it worth the break?

With eyes just like the night, pierce me with your darkness
You drive out all the light with your subtle darknes
I need...

You make me want to bleed
To swim to the other shore
You make me feel the heat
You keep me wanting more

I need to let out my inner...
So let me be your...
