

She'll Get Over It

Amanda Stott

In the blink of an eye
Sparks fly and fires die
Some things weren't meant to last
No you won't be the first
To break that heart of hers
And you won't be the last

So let her go let her go let her go
Let her go let her go let her go

She'll get over it in time
One less burden on her mind
Hurt a little bit
She'll get over it
When those tears drop from her face
Someone else will take your place
And she'll be over you for good

So let her go let her go let her go

Try to tell her goodbye
Oh no your mouth goes dry
And your heart start to sink
Then you look in her eyes
Oh you just might be surprised
She's stronger than you think

So let her go let her go let her go
Let her go let her go let her go

She'll get over it in time
One less burden on her mind
Hurt a little bit
She'll get over it
When those tears drop from her face
Someone else will take your place
And she'll be over you for good

Make up your mind (make up your mind)
You can't take forever
She'll get over you in time

So let her go let her go let her go

She'll get over it in time
One less burden on her mind
Hurt a little bit
She'll get over it
When those tears drop from her face
Someone else will take your place
And she'll be over you for good
