

Conviction

Amber Pacific

Memories of broken things
Leaves me here with nothing
In a mix that capture glimpse
Into another ending

When I break free from all I need
And everything that comes at me
I'm terrified just see the light
Shining down

And if it is faith that decides
I'm not gonna fear for my life
I won't give up dying
I'm trying to fight
And if you just stay by my side
I need you to feel what it's like
Being so close to losing what's mine

Another dream to make believe
That in this world i'm something
And to forget and just regret
Of taking things for granted

I have seen what this could be
And it's enough to prove to me
I'm sailing off the broken seas
Into nothing

And if it is faith that decides
I'm not gonna fear for my life
I won't give up dying
I'm trying to fight
And if you just stay by my side
I need you to feel what it's like
Being so close to losing what's mine

The promise of
A new found love
Is here for you and I
I'll keep this up
To feel the rush
Of your touch
Tonight

I still see you
In the rear view

And if it is faith that decides
I'm not gonna fear for my life
I won't give up dying
I'm trying to fight
And if you just stay by my side
I need you to feel what it's like
Being so close to losing what's mine