Amber Run

Sometimes you win, sometimes you lose
But you're never forced
Yeah, you can choose between a champion
Or a spark to force your own ignition.
I am not good at being alone
I still find the worst in everyone
I need a reason, a vision of somebody.

Oh, but I don't wanna be the center of anything
Just a part of something bigger.
Oh, and I don't wanna be the center of anything
Just a part of something bigger.

Oh, you think it's over, well that's the real start
Feel it far in your bones, feel it beat in your heart
It's early season
To blow apart and keep on moving.

Oh, but I don't wanna be the center of anything
Just a part of something bigger.
Oh, and I don't wanna be the center of anything
Just a part of something bigger.

Sometimes you win, sometimes you lose
But you're not forced though and you can choose
You can choose

Oh, and I don't wanna be the center of anything
Just a part of something bigger.
Oh, and I don't wanna be the center of anything
Just a part of something bigger.
Oh, and I don't wanna be the center of anything
Just a part of something bigger.
