Where do you think you're goin'? Dressin' like some evening tramp? What do you think you're doin'? Well, you got them talkin' behind my back It must be something I can't relate It's enough to drive a man from his mind So get back home before it's too late How could you up and just walk out of my life? I can't let a woman like you get to my head I can't let a woman like you get to my head What do you think you're doin' ? Well I told you not to leave anymore Where do you think you're going? Come on, get your fingers off of that door It must be something I can't relate It's enough to drive a man from his mind So get back home before it's too late How could you up and just walk out of my life? I can't let a woman like you get to my head I can't let a woman like you get to my head I've waited all my life For someone like you Waited all my life Is there something that I could do... I can't let a woman like you get to my head I can't let a woman like you get to my head Goo, goo goo goo.
