

All You Need

Amely

Everyone is watching me close
Somehow nobody even knows
The thoughts inside my head
Or all the changes I've got to show
The rumors and he said, she said
They're likely trips for me but instead
I'll take every word and fuel this fire of my head
I don't care what they'll say

Cause the world is yours for the taking
There's nothing here that's out of reach
It's your time to make them all remember
Everything that you can be
So put your dreams in the skyline
And make everyone here believe
Just live your life for every moment
And in turn, life will be all that you need

So now it's so easy to let go
The promises you made are no show
You thought that you could fool me
But it's time that you learned I'm so much more
Let's make a sound so that they will listen
Turn around, it's you that it's missing out on Shut the door and walk away
From the games you've tried to play

Cause the world is yours for the taking
There's nothing here that's out of reach
It's your time to make them all remember
Everything that you can be
So put your dreams in the skyline
And make everyone here believe
Just live your life for every moment
And in turn, life will be all that you need

Heads will shake
Two hearts will break
And I will be caught off guard
But in time you'll learn
And we will be the stars

Cause the world is yours for the taking
There's nothing here that's out of reach
It's your time to make them all remember
Everything that you can be

Cause the world is yours for the taking
There's nothing here that's out of reach
It's your time to make them all remember
Everything that you can be
So put your dreams in the skyline
And make everyone here believe
Just live your life for every moment
And in turn, life will be all that you need

Cause the world is yours for the taking

There's nothing here that's out of reach
It's your time to make them all remember
Everything that you can be
So put your dreams in the skyline
And make everyone here believe
Just live your life for every moment
And in turn, life will be all that you need