

Beatdown

American Steel

I met you at a party and i should have known with eyes like yours i should have left you alone i played the fool and i bit the hook those eyes that glitter for any fool who'd look you were looking for a warm bed, mine was down the hall i was looking for love and ready to fall we're both in the same place so lets not place any blame you don't love me so i cant love you you wont cry no tears so i wont cry too i wont drag out the past if you wont drag out the future let it be wrong cuz i can't stay here all night long tonight i know love is lost we don't need no situation my head hurts, everything keeps falling down you don't need to come too
you wont cry no tears so i wont cry too
