

On The Other Side Pt. I

Amoral

There's a bridge not far from here
I tend to cross from time to time
A secret pathway I hold dear it leads me to the other side I keep these visits for myself
I guess it's hard to understand
Not a choice anymore, it's out of my hands

And yet again I can hear her voice calling me...

Everything that I know to be real is in you
Why I left when I did, that mistake I can't undo Give me a few second chances
let me start this all anew
All that's real is in you

Staring down the void teared by the years
I was away
it looks eternal, all-consuming way too much for any man to bear

Staring down the void teared by the years
I was away
it's ever-deep I know but hell if I don't patch it with that once was there

Staring down the void...
Staring down the void...

Everything that I know to be real is in you
Why I left when I did, that mistake I can't undo
Give me a few second chances,
let me start this all anew
Everything that I know to be real is you

Everything that I know to be real is in you
Why I left when I did, that mistake I can't undo
Give me a few second chances,
let me start this all anew
All that's real is you

All I know to be real is you
